

Message from Vice-Chancellor

Hostels or halls of residences for young men and women are the ideal habitats for shaping the life and personality of students. Away from home, students learn to combine freedom with discipline as they prepare themselves to graduate and occupy their place in life.

They build lasting life-long friendship with hostel mates and appreciate the value of leisure and creativity. At the same time, they must subject themselves to necessary disciplines for community living.

I am glad to welcome the boarders- both old and new- to the hostels of the Central University of Orissa on our main campus. These are being occupied for the first time in the University's history. I congratulate the boarders for making history and hope that their stay in the hostels becomes both enjoyable and instructive.

Prof. Sachidananda Mohanty
