Central Univ signs MoU with Koraput institute:

The Central University of Orissa in Sunabeda signed an MoU with the Council of Analytical Tribal Studies of Koraput on Tuesday to enhance cooperation in higher education and tribal research development. The objective of the MoU is to promote academic cooperation between the two institutions. "It will facilitate the overall development of the Centre for Tribal Welfare and Community Development of the varsity and turn it into a centre of excellence in tribal studies, said VC Sachidananda Mohanty. The two institutions will carry out joint research projects and there will be exchange of students, faculty, academic information, study and research materials, he added.

Central University, COATS sign MoU

STATESMAN NEWS SERVICE
KORAPUT, 25 JULY

Central University of Orissa, Koraput (CUO) and the Council of Analytical Tribal Studies (COATS), Koraput signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) today to collaborate in research, documentation and sharing resources in the best interest of both the institutions.

Prof Sachidananda Mahanty, VC of CUO while addressing the gathering said COATS has been a trendsetter and pioneer in regards to preservation of tribal cultural heritage in this part of the state while CUO has become the only university in the state with conducting entrance examination in 8 different districts and taking students from across the state. The MoU was a historic moment for both the institutions by coming together in addressing the critical components of research and development of issues that influence the region, he said.

The CUO was committed to make the students enabled to rise to the highest position in the society on the basis of their strength and capabilities. The university was spreading the light of education through collaboration with institutions of repute like COATS in the entire region. While individual journey was no more the key of development a collaborative alliance was the need of the hour. The most significant event take place in silence and signing MoU could be such a great moment. Discovery of common cause by listening to the point of view of others would be the basis of collaboration between the two institutions, Prof. Mahanty added.

While sharing his hopes & aspiration, P C Mohapatra, Director, COATS, Koraput said that it was a great opportunity to be in partnership with Central University of Orissa in facilitating preservation, documentation, promotion and development of tribal heritage & culture of the region by involving the very people & resources of the very communities. Documentation of culture of Tribes of the region could be the launching pad of the collaboration which was agreed by the VC, he added.

Among others Jagabandhu Samal, consultant of COATS addressed.
