Flag hoisting ceremony on the occasion of 6th Foundation Day of CUO

From the desk of the Vice-Chancellor

Central University of Orissa has completed five successful years with a meaningful existence. Last few months have been remarkably eventful for the University. The Address of our visitor Shri Pranab Mukherjee, the Hon'ble President of India on "Democracy and Governance" at the meeting of Higher Educational and Research Institutions through video conferencing in the beginning of the Academic Session 2014-15 was inspiring for both faculty and students as he underlined the core civilisational values of India to be inculcated by these Institutions such as love for motherland; performance of duty; compassion for all; tolerance for pluralism; respect for women; honesty in life; self-restraint in conduct, responsibility in action and discipline.

The 6th Foundation Day Programme was itself a success story as students of different centres and staff exhibited their best cultural display. To add a feather in the cap, our cultural troupe for "Dhemsā" has been selected for National Level participation in the "Inter University Central Zone Youth Festival" organised by Berhampur University. The University has come of age.

The first batch of B.Ed. students passed out of the university with flying colours. The Research Programme (M.Phil and Ph.D.) have been introduced during 2014-15 in the Centre for Biodiversity Conservation of Natural Resources. In the last academic session research programme was started in four subjects i.e. Anthropology, Sociology, Oriya and Journalism and Mass Communication. The prestigious Erasmus Mundus Programme is already underway which help student & staff exchange mobility towards Europe from India.

In the current academic session two centres i.e. Centre for Mathematics and Centre for Economics have started functioning from our main campus at Sunabeda. The Central library has also started functioning from the main campus with reprographic facilities for students. The infrastructural progress in the main campus has been accelerated keeping in pace with the needs of increasing number of students and staff.

The Central University of Orissa is continuing its all out efforts for making a knowledge society that is capable of delivering quality higher education with equity and equality.

My sincere thanks to the dedicated team for their endeavour and commitment.

ADDRESS BY THE PRESIDENT OF INDIA, SHRI PRANAB MUKHERJEE TO THE HIGHER EDUCATIONAL AND RESEARCH INSTITUTIONS ON THE TOPIC, “DEMOCRACY AND GOVERNANCE”

Through Video Conferencing from Rashtrapati Bhavan, New Delhi : 05.08.2014

Leaders of institutions of higher learning; Heads of other academic and research institutions; faculty members; my dear students:

1. I am happy to address you at the beginning of this new academic session. I welcome all the students who have joined universities and other centres of higher learning for the first time. During the Annual Conference of Vice Chancellors of central universities held in the Rashtrapati Bhavan in February 2013, it was decided that I will have e-interaction with academic institutions twice a year - once in the beginning of the calendar year and again in August, on commencement of the academic year. I first interacted through this e-platform in January, 2014. I express my gratitude to Prof. S.V. Raghavan and his team at the National Knowledge Network, and the NIC team, for making this video-talk possible.

Dear Students:

2. You, the youth of our country, are our future. You have a stake in the progress of this nation and the welfare of its people. General Elections to the 16th Lok Sabha were held in April and May, this year. Election is a great festival of democracy and a crucial milestone in a nation's journey towards peace, progress and prosperity. Many amongst you have voted for the first time in the elections this year. That how deep the roots of our democracy are can be gauged from the fact that from a level of about 58 per cent in both the 2004 and 2009 General Elections, the voter turnout has gone up to an encouraging 66 per cent in this year's Elections. I compliment you for your enthusiastic participation in this largest democratic exercise of the world.

3. This Election has provided majority to a single party for the formation of a stable government after thirty years, with a mandate to provide good governance. Good governance is a mechanism to establish order, pursue social and economic progress and promote welfare of the people. As developing countries grapple with a multitude of socio-economic objectives, standards of governance have come into sharp focus in recent years. In this backdrop, I have chosen to speak to you today on an issue of contemporary relevance - Democracy and Governance.

*His Excellency, Shri Pranab Mukherjee, Hon'ble President of India
addressing to the Higher Educational and Research Institutions on the topic, "Democracy And Governance"*

Friends:

4. Though good governance entered the lexicon of development two decades back, its essentials were prevalent in India since ancient times. In Arthshastra, Kautilya had described the qualities of a King as and I quote: "The happiness of the people is the happiness of the king; their good alone is his, his personal good is not his true good; the only true good being that of his people. Therefore let the King be active in working for the prosperity and welfare of his people" (unquote). On the eve of India's independence, Pandit Nehru in his 'tryst with destiny' speech outlined the aim of a free India as the ending of poverty, ignorance, disease and inequality of opportunities. It was evident that political freedom would carry little meaning without social and economic justice.

5. At the time of Independence, we the people of India chose democracy as the form of government. Our democratic ideals flow from the Constitution, which reflects our civilizational values. The Preamble, the Fundamental Rights, the Fundamental Duties and the Directive Principles

- of State Policy contain the ingredients of good governance. In the Preamble, we resolved to constitute India into a sovereign, socialist, secular, democratic republic and to secure to all its citizens: Justice, social, economic and political; Liberty of thought, expression, belief, faith and worship; Equality of status and of opportunity, and to promote among them all; and Fraternity, assuring the dignity of the individual and the unity and integrity of the Nation. Fundamental rights are essential to preserve human dignity. Human dignity cannot be assured without the elimination of poverty. The Directive Principles are an essential guide to good governance practices. Only good governance can eradicate deprivation and backwardness. In the landmark judgment in the case of Kesavananda Bharati vs. State of Kerala in 1973, the Supreme Court observed that both Directive Principles and Fundamental Rights are equally 'fundamental'. The Constitution has given us the three pillars of democracy - Parliament, Executive and Judiciary. The provision of freedom of speech and expression has given rise to a powerful and vigilant media.
6. In India, I see good governance as exercise of power, within the framework of the Constitution, for efficient and effective management of our economic and social resources for the well-being of the people, through the institutions of state. Our Constitution is a living document which has evolved with time and within its spacious provisions accommodated the changing needs of a growing democracy. It is a constant reminder of our civilizational values, which we at times tend to forget. We will do well to remind ourselves, at least occasionally, that these values are sacrosanct in the functioning of our democracy.
- Friends:
7. Good governance is not a given in any system. It has to be nurtured by carefully developing institutions of democracy. Distortions happen when one institution does not function in the manner expected of it leading to overreach by others. What is required then is strengthening, re-invigorating and re-inventing these institutions to meet the needs of the time. It calls for wider involvement of the civil society. It entails free and open participation in the political processes by the people. It calls for ever-increasing engagement of the youth in the institutions and processes of democracy. It calls for ethical and responsible behaviour from the media.
 8. Good governance is critically dependent on pre-requisites like inviolable adherence to rule of law, existence of participatory decision-making structure, responsiveness, transparency, accountability, corruption-free society, equity and inclusiveness. In short, good governance implies a framework that has well-being of the people as its focal point. Progressive legislations provide an enabling environment and empower citizens to access entitlements. Some examples are the right to Information, education, food and employment.
 9. Novel legislations can work only with robust delivery mechanisms. Corruption leads to denial of equitable distribution of benefits. Complexity and opacity of rules and procedures, discretion in the exercise of power, and weak enforcement of legal provisions are factors contributing to corruption. While we might need some new institutions to fight corruption, the solution lies not merely in creating more institutions but in strengthening and reforming the existing institutions to deliver results.
 10. Good governance calls for adequate decentralization of power. Panchayati Raj institutions need financial autonomy and administrative ability. Reforms in this third tier of governance are necessary for sharing of real power with the people.
 11. Governance implies involving the civil society as an equal collaborator. One must therefore be conscious of her duties and responsibilities, besides rights. Intolerance and acrimony in public discourse has to be avoided. Our country needs constructive partners rather than privilege seekers. I call upon you to contribute to a healthy democratic society and good governance practices in all spheres of functioning.
- Friends and dear students:
12. Dr. S. Radhakrishnan had once said and I quote: "All education is, on the one side, a search for truth; on the other side, it is a pursuit of social betterment. You may discover truth but you should apply it to improve the status of society" (unquote). A sound education system is the bedrock of an enlightened society. Our institutes of higher learning are the cradle of future administrators and policy makers. The seeds of progressive thinking have to be sown and nurtured here. The core civilizational values of love for motherland; performance of duty; compassion for all; tolerance for pluralism; respect for women; honesty in life; self-restraint in conduct, responsibility in action and discipline have to be inculcated in these institutions.
 13. A democracy cannot be healthy without informed participation. You, dear students, are amongst the brightest young minds in this country. The society has invested in you, and in return, you owe something to the society. You are entrusted with the people's hopes and expectations. Read, learn and formulate views on national issues. Make the governance of this country your passion. Choose to engage with our beautiful but sometimes noisy democracy. As the future practitioners of governance, you have to play an active and positive role in ensuring that these institutions perform their duties with responsibility.
 14. In the context of our democracy, good governance is a reflection of the successful functioning of the institutions of state with the singular intention of the well-being of citizens at heart. With these words, I conclude.

TWO DAYS RETREAT OF VICE-CHANCELLORS OF CENTRAL UNIVERSITIES AT CHANDIGARH

Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor of CUO Prof. Mohammad Miyan attended two-day retreat of Vice Chancellors of Central Universities held at Chandigarh on 12-13 September 2014. The Union HRD Minister Smt Smriti Irani graced the retreat.

Highlights of the retreat are:

- All the Central Universities were requested to complete their NAAC accreditation or reaccreditation (as the case may be) as per time frame given by UGC in its Regulation. UGC.
- A working Group comprising Vice-Chancellors of English and Foreign Languages University, University of Delhi, Central University of Gujarat and Jawaharlal Nehru University was constituted for developing a framework for the National Ranking System. The group will submit its report within one month.

SKILL INDIA INITIATIVE

- Council of Industry - Higher Education Collaboration (CIHEC) is being operationalized to identify initiatives to promote research, mobilize resources, develop market ready manpower and enhance employability. The Council will collaborate with Placement Cells of Central Universities for identification of the emerging areas as per the requirement of the neighbouring industries to make the students employment ready.
- 100 Centres of Skilling Excellence, called Knowledge Acquisition and Upgradation of Skilled Human Abilities and Livelihood (KAUSHAL) Centres will be established for skill development in one year. These centres will coordinate the entire skill development efforts of higher educational institutions.
- The working Group comprising of Vice-Chancellor of Central University of Kerala, Central University of Jharkhand, BBAU, Tripura University and Pondicherry University, University of Delhi and Central University of Gujarat was constituted to frame the guidelines on Common admission, Common curriculum, Student mobility, Faculty mobility, National System of Credit Transfer

The Working Group should submit its report within one month.

Under the GIAN (Global Initiative for Academic Networks), the Universities will provide a list of eminent scholars, researchers of the University (within a month) both from within the country and outside, who they would like to invite in their universities as guest speakers/scholars in residence etc.

DIGITAL INDIA INITIATIVE

- The VCs were requested to encourage the faculty in Central Universities to offer free online courses to citizens under the Digital India initiative of SWAYAM (Study Webs of Active Learning for Young Aspiring Minds) through the MOOCs platform created by MHRD through IIT Mumbai.
- National E-Library has been envisaged as an online portal that will democratize access to knowledge by ensuring that quality content are available in a digital format to all citizens. It will become operational in the academic year 2015 and the CUs should actively participate in it.
- Campus Connect Program has been launched to ensure Wi-fi enabled higher educational institutions. All CUs were requested to ensure that their campuses/constituent colleges become fully wi-fi enabled as soon as possible.
- Each Central University will display on its website, within a period of one month, all relevant information including profile of teachers, calendar of activity of university, academic calendar, names of members of all statutory bodies along with their tenure, research output, information on budget, vacancy, tenure of Registrar, Finance Officer etc.
- UGC was requested to formulate regulations where in the students coming out of Vocational stream are not discriminated against vis-a vis the students coming out of general streams.
- 40 great personalities of India would be identified. All universities were requested to locate the schools/colleges/universities which had the proud privilege of teaching these great personalities and take action to develop/improve the facilities and infrastructure in these institutions.

The Union Human Resource Development Minister also exhorted all VCs to ensure prevention of sexual harassment of students and staff at all costs. All Central Universities should ensure proper facilities and infrastructure for disabled students, she added.

CENTRAL UNIVERSITY OF ORISSA, KORAPUT CELEBRATED 6TH FOUNDATION DAY

Sitting on the dais:

The Chief Guest Mr. R.K. Mishra along with Prof. Mohammad Miyan, Vice-Chancellor, and Col. R. S. Chauhan, Registrar, CUO.

The Central University of Orissa observed its 6th Foundation Day at Koraput on 29th August. Organised at its Landiguda campus. The Vice Chancellor of the University, Professor Mohammad Miyan presided over the meeting and Shri Rajkishore Mishra, Executive Director (M & R), NALCO, Damanjodi graced the occasion as the Chief Guest of the function.

Delivering the address, Prof. Mohd. Miyan expressed his joy on seeing the university reached new heights and achieving new endeavours. His speech emphasized on the power of mind and how students should be groomed with not just rational intelligence but also emotional intelligence. He also spoke about how Koraput remained an inaccessible location but presents a great learning environment in the budding years of the students and scholars. He also urged the university to bring along the local population and take into consideration their problems before working towards benefitting them through some outreach programmes. He stressed the need for starting job oriented courses by professional departments and also need for establishing English and Odia medium schools inside the university campus to cater the needs of staff as well as the local community.

Delivering the Foundation Day address Mr. Mishra congratulated the administration and staff of the University for the smooth operation and functioning of the institution in the district of Koraput. He lauded the decision of the Central Government of India to open the university at an underprivileged and underdeveloped area like Koraput and is proud to have seen remarkable development in this part of the state with the experienced faculty and staff coming through along with some bright individuals at the university. He hoped that the University will go a long way in putting Koraput

Mind at work in the Central Library of CUO

Students collecting the books in the Central Library of CUO

Central Library of CUO is one of the important central facilities of the University catering to the information needs of faculty, research scholars and students in Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, and Sciences. It is set up as an integral part of university system to cope with its multidimensional activities. At present University library is subscribing to 82 print journals (both national and international) and more than 8000 electronic journals are accessed online through UGC Infonet Digital Library consortium. In the last year a major work was taken to automate its central library by the use of integrated library management software KOHA. It is an open source software and is extensively used in major libraries all across the globe. Central library has latest photo copying machines for providing reprographic services to its library users at our main campus at Sunabeda.

New Development & ICT Infrastructure:

Since its inception, the library has taken visible measures in making use of the developments of ICT advancements. The library has -

- 1 GB Knowledge Network for accessing on-line databases subscribed through UGC-Infonet Digital Library Consortia.
- Library automation using KOHA Library Automation Software.
- Library Intranet for accessing OPAC (Online Public Access Catalogue).
- A total number of 376 new students got enrolled as new member of Central Library.

Membership Strength

At present University library is functioning from its two campuses and in the both campuses library has 860 members comprising students, faculty, research scholars and non teaching staff. Besides these in-house members, the library also sometimes caters to the needs of scholars and visitors from other academic and research institution near to our University.

Working Hours

To provide maximum access to its information, Central Library remains open on all working days of the University from 08:30 hrs to 18:00 hrs.

ପ୍ରତିଷ୍ଠାଦିନ ପାଳନରେ ଶିକ୍ଷା ଉପରେ ଗୁରୁତ୍ୱ

STATESMAN NEWS SERVICE Koraput, 29 August

The Central University of Orissa (CUO) organised several programmes to mark its sixth foundation day at Landiguda campus here today.

Delivering the foundation day address, Mr Rakesh Mishra, executive director (M & R), Nalco, Damanjodi maintained that establishment of the higher learning institute in a underprivileged and underdeveloped area like Koraput itself is a major step.

With a galaxy of experienced faculty members, the CUO at Koraput has every potential to become one of the best educational institutes of the country, he added.

Speaking on the occasion, vice-chancellor Prof Mohammad Miyan stressed on the power of mind and described how the students should be groomed with not just rational intelligence but emotional intelligence.

The registrar of CUO Col RS Chauhan also spoke on the occasion. The guests gave away the prizes to the meritorious students and research scholars. Several competitions like debate, quiz, sports, art and painting, clay modelling and rangoli were organised earlier.
